

YSN activity report for 2005

The Young Scholars Network (YSN) was established in February 2005.

1. Core documents were drafted and published on ECREA and YECREA websites.
2. Strategies for future activities and for attracting more members were developed.

Activities

3. YSN organized a workshop at the European Doctoral Summer School collecting valuable information and feedback from participating students.
4. YSN organized a round-table at the First Communication Conference to present the network, collect contact information of those interested to become part of the network, and discuss issues of interest to the young scholars through a roundtable discussion.

Online presence

5. A first mailing list was set up (not yet functional).
6. The information gathered from the workshop and roundtable has been used to plan and set up the young scholars website early 2006.
